GROUP

Out of Area Trainers/Camps

For this type of training a 50% deposit will be required to book your space at the event stating your name and date of training (D Peters 07/01/26 e.g.).

Remainder of balance is due to be paid once the times of the event have been published.

General weekly training and weekend training

Payment for your lesson should be sent as soon as possible once the times have been published, unless the organiser states differently (wintery weather e.g.). Payment should be transferred to the GDG bank account stating your name and date of training (D Peters 07/01/26 e.g.).

Should you need to cancel your booking after the times have been published, you remain liable for the full cost of the event unless there is a waitlist for the event that can fill your space. If this is the case, you will receive a full refund for your training on confirmation of the member on the waitlist paying for the place at the event.

Should there be no waitlist, you may transfer or 'gift' your training slot to another GDG member should you wish. You will remain liable for payment in this instance and GDG accept no responsibility for refunding you in this situation. You may seek direct payment from the person filling your space, but this must be made clear from the outset with written proof as to whether you seek reimbursement or not.

No transfer of lesson should occur without the clearance from the organisation.

Non-members filling spaces must have their own liability insurance (taken in a written format to the event) and will be subject to an additional non-member surcharge for the event. The organiser must receive this prior to the event taking place.
